संदेश

मुझे यह जानकर हार्दिक प्रसन्नता हुई कि विधि की पढ़ाई कर रहे जागरूक छात्र-छात्राओं के समूह ने 'छत्तीसगढ़ मॉक इंडियन पार्लियामेंट-2015' का आयोजन करने का निर्णय लिया है। विधि की पढ़ाई के साथ सामाजिक जागरूकता विषयों तथा संसदीय कार्य प्रणाली की समझ विकसित करना और इसमें देश के विभिन्न स्थानों में विधि के साथ अन्य संकायों में अध्ययनरत विद्यार्थियों को भी जोड़ना एक सराहनीय प्रयास है।

हमारे संसदीय लोकतंत्र की सुदृढ़ता और सुखद भविष्य के लिए ऐसे आयोजन अत्यावश्यक है, जिससे विद्यार्थी स्तर से देश-दुनिया के समकालीन मुद्दों की समझ विकसित हो, परस्पर विचार-विमर्श से विषय की गहराइयों को समझा जा सके और लोकतांत्रिक मूल्यों और इसके विभिन्न पहलुओं पर सक्रिय रूप से खुली बहस का वातावरण निर्मित हो।

आयोजन अपने उद्देश्यों में सफल हो, इसके लिए मेरी शुभकामनाएं।

FOREWORD FROM THE SECRETARY GENERAL

It is with great pleasure and even more anticipation that I invite you to join us in The Chhattisgarh Mock Indian Parliament 2015 from 31st October to 1st November - in what is being labeled as the about-to-be Chhattisgarh's first national simulation of Parliament.

CMIP hopes to be the dignified and grandiose debating sessions of all time with two days of intense debate, brainstorming, lots of discussion and of course a lot of networking and fun. Our Secretariat has chosen 2 committees constituting the Lok Sabha and the All India Party's Meet.

It is of great pride to us that we have on board five eminent associations of nation repute as partners. We are also proud to have on board some domestic partner conferences of high stature.

Chhattisgarh Mock Indian Parliament 2015 will give you the spirit of actual parliament and helps you to understand its functioning. This event aims at providing a platform, a first-hand opportunity where youth can step into the shoes of a Member of Parliament and take part in the decision making of the country. It shall focus on cementing youth trust in democracy and empowering them to become the future decision makers of the country.

Our Secretariat is already readying up the deck for your presence and is working round the clock to ensure a conference that you remember for times to come!

Further, if you have any queries or need assistance, please reach out to us without any hesitation. Looking forward to host you!

..But I, being poor, have only my dreams; I have spread my dreams under your feet; Tread softly because you tread on my dreams.

Warm regards,
Shikhar Shrivastava
Secretary- General
Chhattisgarh Mock Indian Parliament

FOREWORD FROM THE DIRECTOR GENERAL

आहूति बाकी यज्ञ अधूरा, अपनों के विघ्नों ने घेरा
अंतिम जय का वज्र बनाने,

Director General
Chhattisgarh Mock Indian Parliament

ABOUT MOCK INDIAN PARLIAMENT

We, the people of India, are standing on the threshold of a new tomorrow, a time when even the most hen-pecks of the dictatorships are giving way to the triumphant democracy. Standing on such a crucial juncture, if parliamentary debates and discussions are considered an end in itself then it's just the beginning of a new end. The parliamentary procedures, the long hours of debates the tediousness of the discussions are just the means to an end. If now the question is what are these ends then the answer must be that it envisages that the principle of democracy remains in its pristine form a form in which decision is reached through consensus , the leaders of the people are accountable to them; that they develop a sense of sensitivity towards the masses . It also gives immense scope to the masses to make sure that decisions of their future are in accordance to their dream, that the discussions in the Parliament should circumscribe their needs and most importantly the outcome of the entire procedure resonates with the ambitions of the masses and gives them immense strength, indomitable will and courage to believe in parliamentary democracy where an individual happily entrusts his leader the responsibility of realizing his dreams his ambitions and even his potentials.

CHHATTISGARH MOCK INDIAN PARLIAMENT 2015

बोल, कि लब आज़ाद हूँ तेरे

बोल, ज़बां अब तक तेरी है

Chhattisgarh Mock Indian Parliament 2015(CMIP2015) was the first national level academic simulation of youth parliament in the state of Chhattisgarh.

This event provided a stage, an opportunity where youth stepped into the shoes of a Members of Parliament and took part in the decision making process of the country. This event aimed at cementing youth trust in democracy and empowering them to become the future decision makers of the country.

Team CMIP believes that it's time for the youth of the country to show, resolve and understand its responsibility as future decision-makers.

CMIP 2015 was a two committee based simulation where the LOK SABHA discussed the Review of Reservation Policy, focusing on women and policies to benefit the last deprived person whereas All India Party's Meet took on the Issue of Naxalism. The event was bilingual i.e. both in English and Hindi.

The event was held on 31st October, 2015 to 1st November, 2015 in the steel city Bhilai.

AGENDA AND COMMITTEE

LOK SABHA
REVIEW OF RESERVATION
POLICY

ALL INDIA PARTY'S MEET
COMBATING NAXALISM- A WAY
AHEAD

ALL INDIA PARTY'S MEET

Hello Parliamentarians, It gives me immense pleasure to invite all of you in Chhattisgarh Mock Indian Parliament! The agenda of the All India Party meet is COMBATING NAXALISM: THE WAY AHEAD. The Nation is suffering from the cancer of violence and it need to be mitigated within the nick of time. I strongly believe that our discussion and debate will contribute to Nation in affirmative manner.

AIPM would consist of a stakeholder group where participants would opine their view points on the issue of Naxalism. The matrix would consist of Union ministers, Chief Ministers of different states, Bureaucrats, Corporate stalwarts and NGO heads. The committee would discuss on government policies to combat Naxalism. Issue measures, Peace talks, Army intervention and naxalite belt area would be highlighted.

We are looking forward to an active and engaging participation.

Jinendra Parakh
Speaker – AIPM

LOK SABHA

Namaskar Hon'ble Members of Parliament! I am delighted to put forth the agenda for Lok Sabha.

Dictionary defines reservation as 'A district that is reserved for particular purpose'. Reservation policy in India is a procedure of setting aside a certain number or percentage of seats in government institutions for the unprivileged, minority or backward class. The Constitution of India believes in treating the equals equally and the unequal's unequally, i.e. positive discrimination in order to bring equality of opportunity and status in the society. Reservations are generally based on caste, religion, gender, status as a domicile, migrants, differently able and the like. The conception of reservation was enshrined in the Constitution of India to uplift the downtrodden sections of the society so that they can stand at an equal footing with the privileged class.

The debate over the pros and cons of reservation policy is endless. Some argue that reservation policy seeks to avenge the unjust done to the under privileged for all these year and it's a maneuver for vote bank politics while some argue that reservation system provides an opportunity to the concerned classes to improve their lives and stand in par with the privileged sections of the society.

It has been 67 years since we are independent. The time has come to analyze the policies of Compensatory discrimination. Are we on the right path? Have the concerned communities uplifted? Do we need to change our Neeti? Let's discuss. Looking forward for your views.

Suyash Pande

Speaker, Lok Sabha

ALL INDIA PARTY MEET

31st Oct-1 Nov

The first day of the session started off with a lot of enthusiasm and zest in the delegates of the All India Party Meet. The session started off with the discussion on the sub topic “Whether the problem of Naxalism is a law and order problem or an ideological one?”

Most of speeches made on this sub agenda agreed that the problem of Naxalism initially started off as a law and order problem but in the contemporary sense it has moved on to an ideological one.

To support this fact a delegate pointed out that economic disparity played a huge role in the rampant increase in the of Naxalism, as it is an established fact that only poor take up arms to join the naxal movement.

Also the ideology behind Naxalism is supported not only by the literate tribals but also by highly educated people from all around the world, such as Professors from Jadhavpur University, West Bengal and Jawaharlal University, Delhi.

On the second day, the next issue up for the debate was on how to overcome the differences between the parties to combat the issue of Naxalism. As the meet had a majority of first time debaters, the executive board stepped up and suggested the delegates on how to effectively put up their points.

The Chief Ministers of red corridor states present in the meet jointly agreed to become signatories to Interstate boundary agreements. The representatives of various national parties affirmed that they would overcome ego-based clashes and jointly work towards mitigating Naxalism by reaching a common consensus.

A special person was present among the committee, Mr. Devendra Verma, Principal Secretary, Vidhan Sabha, Chhattisgarh who took over as the speaker of the AIPM for a temporary period and enlightened the youth with his words.

As a lot of different solutions for eradication were put up, the speaker allowed an informal session so that the delegates could put up a model as to how these solutions would be implemented. This informal session saw a lot of lobbying and heated discussion, after which a model was presented to the executive board.

The model provided concise solutions which included peace talk with naxalite leaders and encouraged setting up of industries in the affected regions. Reducing the economic disparity among tribals and the other common people was a major goal set up by the model. In order to pursue this henceforth, the model proposed setting up of CSR cells to promote development in these areas.

This meet is ironically called stakeholders meet, but the real stakeholders i.e. the Naxalites are never present, but this edition of CMIP introduced the completely new concept where two naxal commanders were present in the committee to manifest their interests and put forward their assertions. The naxalites said that they were a product of injustice prevailing in the society and the system, and had not joined naxalism by their choice, but rather, by force. The naxalites threatened to blow up the proposed plant to be set up by the Reliance industries.

LOK SABHA

The Lok Sabha commenced with eagerness and fidelity among the newly elected Members of Parliament. After the oath taking ceremony Shri Prem Prakash Pandey Ji announced the beginning of the formal session as speaker of the House. In his address Shri Pandey Ji acknowledged about the origin and history of the Parliamentary form of governance. He acknowledged about the sanctity of Parliamentary Democracy.

The motion to discuss on the issue of women empowerment was passed. The opening speeches of 20 members from both the sides discussed the present status of women in our country and about various measures that can be taken to uplift women. Then motion was passed to discuss ‘whether 33% reservation of seats in Parliament for women will be a feasible step?’ to empower women. Different views were expressed by members of various parties. In general it was admitted that, immediate and efficient measures are required at the grass root level to empower woman in whichever role she is, just a symbolic representation will not solve the issue.

In the second session of the day after lunch, a new motion was adapted to discuss the reforms in present reservation policies. A motion was moved by MP from Dhauraha to discuss on changes to be brought in existing reservation policies. The day ended after the above motion was passed.

Next day the house resumed from the last session, a bill was tabled by MP, Ghaziabad to apply the Creamy layer exclusion system in providing reservations to SC/ST’s in reserved seats for admission in education institutes and appointment in Central Govt. Services. The bill was accepted for discussion and after the final reading, the government refused to support the bill, dramatically the opposition supported the bill and voting was done. The bill was not passed as it required two-third majority. The members who supported the bill from the ruling party were suspended by the party. The government was questioned on its stance on the issue of a wealthy and economically advanced community demanding reservation through aggressive movement that was turning violent. M.P.’ from Gujarat and other states expressed their views on the undeserving demands of some communities nationwide.

A national crisis followed the discussion. Attention was called on a violent attacks by Separatists in various parts of Kashmir in which various casualties were reported and the involvement of Pakistani terrorists was also revealed. The Home Minister and Defence Minister informed the house about the immediate actions taken to control the situation. Then the speaker called the house for Closed Door Discussion on Kashmir Issues. The issue of abrogation of Article 370, Cross Border terrorism in Kashmir and a communal intolerance was discussed openly with heated arguments between some M.P.’s. During the end of the discussion for the first time majority of members from all the parties were seen standing together and committed to resolve the long pending Kashmir issue. The House was adjourned till next session.

Charcha Chai Pe

The first edition of the Chhattisgarh Mock Indian Parliament witnessed an exclusive tete-a-tete “Charcha Chai Pe” conclave. The primary objective of this conclave was to bring together curious delegates and experienced set of dignitaries in one room.

Charcha Chai Pe brought together a senior renowned Politician, an experienced Indian Police Services officer and an entrepreneur-cum-motivational speaker.

A joint session was called on by the secretariat of the CMIP for further deliberation of the event.

Shri Pradeep Gandhiji, former Member of Parliament, Shri D.M Awasthiji, (D.G. Naxal Operations) Indian Police Service and Shri Siddharth Mehtaji, Director Career Launcher Bhilai were present at the dais.

The ‘Charcha Chai Pe’ episode began with the opening speech by the Director General of CMIP Suyash Pande. He introduced the dignitaries to the members and moderated the session.

In his opening speech, Shri Pradeep Gandhiji emphasized on the role of youth towards modern day politics. He focused on the idea of change, driven by youth and congratulated Team CMIP for taking efforts for this event. He discussed his vision of “GVALA”, i.e., Global Vision Local Action.

Shri D.M Awasthiji provided his practical field experience and cleared the air of doubts on the Naxalism issue. He answered more than 40 questions from the audience.

Shri Siddharth Mehtaji deliberated the idea of ‘youth and change’ focusing on the issue of time management and the importance of leadership skills in one’s life.

After the opening speeches, the house was open for discussion and questions. The members in the house were both enthusiastic and curious in questioning the dignitaries. A lot of pragmatic issues were discussed and deliberated at the conclave. The session was concluded by Shikhar Shrivastava, Secretary General, CMIP, who thanked the members for their precious time.

Special Lecture by
Shri Devendra Verma
Principal Secretary, Chhattisgarh Vidhan Sabha

Shri Devendra Verma Ji is the incumbent Principal Secretary of Chhattisgarh Vidhan Sabha. He has experience of visiting more than 24 Parliament houses across the world and is also well versed with Parliamentary system of India. His lecture backed by sound knowledge and deep experiences in the field provided the participants with very useful information. He not only gave the analysis of working of Indian Parliament but also highlighted the specialties of different Parliament houses of the world.

Foreword

I congratulate team CMIP for initiating this innovative simulation of Youth Parliament in State of Chhattisgarh. This is a great initiative to raise awareness among the youth about governance and democratic decision making process. It provides a good platform for the youth to showcase their talents and hone their skills. It will provide exposure to the youth of Chhattisgarh and allow them to put their voice at national level. I hope that this event acts as the ignition for several academic events in the days to come.

My best wishes to team CMIP.

Ch'garh Mock Parliament to be held on Oct 31

Higher Education Minister Pandey to be chief guest

Raipur, Oct 26:

For the first time in the state of Chhattisgarh, a national level academic simulation of youth parliament is going to be held this month in the steel city Bhilai. Chhattisgarh Mock Indian Parliament (CMIP) 2015 aims to bring together the youths of today from across the nation and help them in understanding their responsibilities as future decision makers of the society. This event is a genial attempt which provides a platform for the youth of the country to step into the shoes of Member of Parliament and empowers them to raise their opinions. Chhattisgarh Mock Parliament promises engaging, interactive and brain storming debating sessions to the participants.

John Keating has rightly said, 'No matter what anybody tells you, words and ideas can change the world'. Chhattisgarh Mock Indian Parliament (CMIP) 2015 endeavours to establish a connection between the future social engineers of the society with the Indian parliament by taking in their ideas on urgent and crucial policy decisions. CMIP 2015 will be a two day academic simulation, to be held on 31st October to 1st November. It will have two committees where the Lok Sabha would discuss the Review of Reservation Policy and All India Party's Meet would take on the issue of Naxalism. It will witness participation from reputed national schools and varsity of Mumbai, Delhi and other cities. The event would be bilingual i.e. both in English and Hindi. The venue for the event is Hotel Ashish International, G.E Road, Power House, Bhilai.

Chhattisgarh. The students who are willing to participate in the event can fill the registration form given on the CMIP 2015 official website -cgmpip.weebly.com and the same can be contacted for information, queries, study guides and technicalities.

For engaging participation various guests' lectures have been arranged by the event secretariat. Sitting Member of Parliament, bureaucrats and educationist among others will grace the event.
